

Just like Cable Television, I have the right to listen to what I want to in the privacy of my own home. This is a paid service and if the major radio networks would allow programming for people instead of programming for advertising dollars, I would listen to it. I can not stand the radio formatting available in our area, it has no creativity, is annoyingly juvenile and has the personality of a rock. Our satellite XM radio allows us to be exposed to new music. We dictate what we listen to not the advertisers.
